One new burial on November 8, Alice Bramble, south section, row 20, lot 12s

Mike was going to use excess dirt to fill in the sink hole previously noted.

Cornerstone business getting difficult to find providers of monuments and stones. Contacts not returning calls or not interested. Tom will continue the search.

Connie Guthrie had difficulty, but Pam had contact with her and a stone was to be obtained in Ohio, picture provided with $25 fee. Will take a few months and permission from lot owner still needed.

Repair work needed on at least three stones. Leaning stone, the McClay discovery and a loose stone reported by Maddox a few rows up front in center section with picture provided showing the name. Ted can complete repairs with confirmation and Jerry can show him.

What appears to be the last mowing was done this afternoon and invoices to be submitted for last two. Question asked about Maddox mowing next year and Aimee will ask him in time to plan.

Plants are doing fine.

Jerry – no follow up from previous web contact about a lot purchase.

Ground penetrating radar? How is it going in Newark? Is the cost worth the information provided? Would be beneficial to future sales. About 30 burials with no stones or known location, but have names and dates. Hope is dogs will return and provide some information.

Corners stakes are in the works. Posts obtained, need caps and sent out to paint, about two weeks or so. Will update next meeting.

Burial transfer slips? Tom has some, still looking for others, will get them to Jerry soon.
